COOKING STOVE!

Agents for Bangor and vicinity for the celebrated Cooking Stove,

GOOD SAMARITAN.

THIS STOVE was tested by Messrs Rathbone and others, in July of 1860, and although but a few months in use, has expanded since it was first offered to a discriminating public, the well merited reputation it has gained in advance of any other Stove. The Good Samaritan, that its superiority of arrangement and all the conveniences which surpass in a trial of any stove in market. We will name a few of the which it possesses over any other stove, the convenience with which almost it, the saving of cooking, the bare stove to put kettles on.

Its capacity for baking. It has a very and also convenience for baking on the top. The Cracker front register for the purpose of toasting meat, and this of contending with the same difficulties being baked in the oven. Cooking so, in no other stove use.

Economy of heat. The Good Samaritan a draught arrangement, which enables the fire to burn as long as the fuel, or a fire as the occasion may require, which this arrangement the economy of fuel is, that while started in the cold stove in from one-half the time, the operator can, after the fire, lessen the draught as much as desired, or close it entirely—thus giving control of the heat.

Durability. The fire-backs, which will never and consequently will not need replacing. Also, the oven is lined extensively as a lining to and it will be established that nothing and the effected intense heat for so great a time.

Conclusions for broiling are perfect and have a splendid arrangement for the hearth, giving a perfect draught, under and around the broiler, into the chimney. Keep cool, as active and carrying as any range in the food—every one by upon the top without entering the room. This is accomplished by a damper, and can only be effected by the operator.

Ventilation of the oven. It is effected by holes in the bottom of the oven, which the fresh air and through the fire place of the fire, and before entering the damper into the oven, all gases arising from the food, will naturally rise to the top and be consumed, (thus and also to the perfect

AND testimonials, new, and almost without number, might be given from ladies and gentlemen, in all grades of society, whose united testimony none could resist, that Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will restore the hair and gray, and preserve the hair of the youth to old age, in all its youthful beauty.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Dec. 21, 1858.

Prof. Wood.—Then will please accept a line to inform you that the hair on my head all fell off over twenty years ago, caused by a complicated chronic disease, attended with an eruption on the head. A continual course of suffering through life having reduced me to a state of dependence, I have not been able to obtain snuff for caps, neither have I been able to do them up, in consequence of which my head has suffered extremely from cold. This induced me to pay Briggs & Hodges almost the last cent I had on earth for a two dollar bottle of thy Hair Restorative, about the first of August last. I have faithfully followed the directions, and the bald spot is now covered with hair thick and black, though short. It is also coming in all over my head. Feeling confident that another large bottle would restore it entirely and permanently, I feel anxious to persevere in its use, and being destitute of means to purchase any more, I would ask thee if thou wouldst not be willing to send me an order on thine agents for a bottle, and receive to thyself the scripture declaration—"the reward is to those that are kind to the widow and the fatherless."

Thy friend, SUSANNAH KIRBY.

LIGONIER, Noble Co., Indiana, Feb. 5, 1859.

Prof O. J. Wood—Dear Sir. In the latter part of the year 1856, while attending the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of 6 months the whole upper part of my scalp was almost entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana my more casual acquaintances were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my appearance, as my more intimate acquaintances were to recognize me at all.

I at once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country, but, receiving no assurance from them that my hair could again be restored, I was forced to become reconciled to my fate, until, fortunately, in the latter part of the year 1857, your Restorative was recommended to me by a druggist, as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time I have used seven dollars' worth of your Restorative, and as a result have a rich coat of very soft black hair, which no money can buy.

As a mark of my gratitude for your labor and skill in the production of so wonderful an article I have recommended its use to many of my friends and acquaintances, who, I am happy to inform you, are using it with like effect.

Very respectfully yours, A. M. LATTA,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz large, medium, and small. The small holds holds 1-2 a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle, the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for three dollars per bottle.

A CARD.

THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY, of Waltham, Mass., begs to call the attention of the public to the following emphatic recommendation of Waltham Watches, which has been politely given by the leading practical Watchmakers and Jewellers throughout the United States. The entire list of signatures to it, even in the Eastern States, is quite too long for publication in one advertisement; but the names presented will be recognized by those acquainted with the Trade in this vicinity, as being in the highest degree respectable and influential. At their establishments may always be found the genuine watches of the Company's manufacture, in great variety and at uniform prices.

Signatures from many cities and towns of New England, not fully represented in this list, will appear in a future advertisement.

To the Public.

"THE UNDERSIGNED, practical Watchmakers and dealers in Watches, having bought and sold American Watches for a number of years past, and having dealt in all kinds of foreign watches for a much longer period of time, beg to state that they have never dealt in watches which, as a class or in individual instances, have been more satisfactory to themselves and customers, whether in respect of durability, beauty of finish, mathematically correct proportions, accurate compensation and adjustment, or of fine time-keeping results, than those manufactured by the Waltham Company."

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

FOR CHILDREN TETTHING,

which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation, allays ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to your selves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and CAN SAY, IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE TO EFFECT A CURE, when a timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW" after ten years' experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

THOUSANDS CASES

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your prejudices or the prejudices of others, stand between you and your suffering child, and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world.

YOU CAN'T FIND

An Article that Suits as Well as

HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Apothecaries and consumers all testify that It is the Only Reliable Article

FOR THE BALD AND GRAY.

Read the testimony from Kentucky.

PADUCAH, KY., July 27, 1860.

MR. W. A. BELL.

Dear Sir:—I have used HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE, and am satisfied, from an experience in all other preparations for the like purpose, that it is the only article ever before the public worth purchasing

Yours truly, JOHN G. DALY.

PADUCAH, KY., July 27, 1860.

MESSRS. W. E. HAGAN & CO., Troy, N. Y.

Gents:—Above please find statement of Mr. John G. Daly, a merchant of our city, in regard to HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. This testimony is given after having used most of the preparations now before the public claiming to be Hair Restoratives, and must be considered conclusive as to the merits of the inimitable. Am out of the large size. Forward by Railroad double the quantity we had before.

Very truly yours, W. A. BELL.

IT WILL RESTORE THE NATURAL COLOR OF THE HAIR, where age or sickness has turned it grey, and it will render it soft and glossy.

"ANYBODY"

who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its use or and freshness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and with as much safety—is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article for the toilet, has no equal.

MESSRS. W. E. HAGAN & CO.,

I hereby certify that my Hair having become gray and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bit bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use my Hair was restored to its original color and thickness, it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any Hair Preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the best and cheapest Hair Preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WILLIAM BUSBYSHALL.

THE RESPONSE OF A BRECKINRIDGE MAN We take the following extracts from a recent article in the Bath Times, written, we understand, by a gentleman who was one of the most prominent leaders of the Breckinridge party last year and who resides in one of our down river towns. It will be seen that he, in behalf of all the Breckinridge voters in his town denounces the proposed traitors convention in this city, and repudiates the sentiments of the call.

The Maine Democrat Party.

MR. EDITOR—I notice in the Bangor Democrat a lengthy call for a State Convention of the Breckinridge party, signed by the state Committee chosen at the Convention of that party holden at Bangor last fall—in which call occurs this passage

"Believing it to be the unanimous sentiment and heartfelt desire of the political organization which we represent, we cordially invite to participate in our primary elections, all men by whatever party name heretofore known, who are opposed to this UNHOLY CIVIL WAR, and in favor of the immediate restoration of peace by negotiation and compromise

Now, sir, be onging myself to that organization, and bearing a part though indeed a very humble one—that of a delegate from this town to the Convention which made the aforesaid Committee, and helping in the act to the extent of my voice and vote—I ask leave through your columns for my and in behalf of my colleagues and of nearly if not quite, all of the 53 good democrats in this town who voted for Breckinridge and Lane to protest against this new Convention as uncalled for and unpatriotic and against the assertions and doctrines in the call for it, as not called and fictious

In the preamble already quoted, the war is pronounced "unholy—that is wicked and waged against the South by us without cause and reason. Now our Committee are either deceived themselves or trying to deceive others as to the great fact of history which constitute the cause and origin of this war. They have doubtless heard of the Edward Everett everywhere honored at home as the scholar the man of honor, and the statesman whose patriotic heart warms for the South not less than for the North of his country In the very able oration delivered by him on the last Fourth of July, speaking of the cause and origin of this war, he says

"If we (the South) succeed in this election, as we have in fifteen that have preceded it, well and good, we will consent to govern the country for four years more as we have for sixty years but we have no intention of acquiescing in any other result. We do not intend to abide by the election, although we participate in it, unless our candidate is chosen. If he (Breckinridge) fails, we intend to prostrate the Government, and break up the Union peaceably if the States composing the majority are willing that it should be broken up peaceably, otherwise at the point of the sword"

So all through this admirable oration, which I would earnestly commend to my Breckinridge friends, it is demonstrated by the great truths of our national history that both the cause and the wickedness of this war, rest with the seceded States. "Unholy war What a libel upon that time worn patriot and veteran of democracy,—Cass—who and gnastly threw off cabinet honors as a filthy garment, because the then government refused to prosecute the war with proper severity, upon our noble Breckinridge men everywhere, who, like Brady and Dickinson of New York, and Dickerson of Maine, have given their voice and like the gallant Butler of Massachusetts, have given their swords to this same "unholy war"

[The writer then examines and refutes some of the doctrines advanced in the call, and concludes as follows.]

This call of this "Democratic State Committee" is most fortunate, for plainly setting forth the monstrous creed of their party—the principles of their charter, and which are to guide their action—many a true democrat and friend of his country will be saved from the utter destruction which inevitably awaits those who, for party spite or hoped for spoil, would, however impotent to do so, disserver and destroy our loved nation. For, mark—"all men, by what party name heretofore known, 'be they democrat, republican or abolitionist, who shall fail by word or deed, by acts of commission or omission to sustain their country in this hour of need, will find written upon their walls, MENE, MENE, TEKEL UPHARSIN, in characters too legible and words so plain as to require no Daniel to make the interpretation

UNION

Noble Words.

"WHAT THOUGH THE FLAG WAS SULLIED THE OTHER DAY! IT NECESSARY TO PURIFY IT, IT WILL BE RATHER IN A NATION'S BLOOD. THE NATION MUST BE REDEEMED, AND THE CAUSE MUST TRIUMPH ON WHICH REST THE HOPE AND FREEDOM OF THE CIVILIZED WORLD."

Noble words! The chivalrous sentiment of a patriot, a Southerner, a slaveholder—indomitable Andrew Jackson of Tennessee!—Rockland Democrat.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

Traitors in Shrouds in Close Quarters.

DEAR SIR:—Strong notices posted on our corners, calling on those who favor the Union), and opposed to the unholy war and administration), to meet at our town hall, on Saturday evening, 3d instant—

We had a curiosity to know and hear something further about their proceedings, and determined to be present. In compliance to the call, a handful of male inhabitants calling themselves Democrats assembled. It had been suggested that a goodly number of true, loyal citizens should meet them, which we accordingly did, much to their surprise and confusion, and far out-numbering them, and our presence quite near silencing them. We will here state that their numbers are few, and happily for the country such is the fact. They are for the Union only upon the principle that we yield entirely to the wishes of the Southern rebels, lay down our arms, and give them the political power of the nation. They sympathize deeply with their Southern friends, and rejoice in their success and glory, and in the fall of our young men now defending their country Such they declare openly, and as such we unhesitatingly declare them traitors and rebels of the deepest dye. They proceeded to choose delegates to attend the traitor convention to be holden in Bangor, (if they can find room.) They had a set of resolutions previously prepared, with the intention of being adopted, but they could not stand the pressure. The loyal citizens present took the starch out of them. They caved in, and suddenly retreated to a store kept by one of them, and in great haste their resolutions were hauled out and read to some eight or ten—but the reading aloud was suppressed—declaring at the same time that there was great danger in reading them at the hall from whence they had retreated. (Each one composing this band of traitors is marked and numbered, and their names registered, and all loyal citizens have an eye to their acts and deeds) The resolutions, as adopted in the rear of the fish barrels in the store, were published in the Bangor Democrat of this week.

In reference to the attendance of Republicans at the above named caucus, the Democrat gave the following notice, which will undoubtedly be copied by Southern papers as evidence of the growing opposition to the war in Maine

CHEERING At the great Democratic Caucus in Brewer on Saturday evening there were some fifty Republicans present who voted for Lincoln last fall. The call for the caucus embraced all peace men, and this large attendance of former Republicans under it was a cheering sign of returning reason.

The facts, Mr Editor, in regard to our attendance, were as we have stated.

ARTILLERY AND CAVALRY The Kennebec Journal "has reason to believe that a battery of Artillery and also a battalion of Cavalry formed of the right kind of stuff, would be accepted by the State Government, and at once mustered into the Federal services. The battery might consist of six, eight or ten pieces according to circumstances The battalion say of four companies of seventy five horsemen each These arms of the service are destined to play a very important part in future engagements, and are attracting increased attention from military men.

THE PAY OF OUR VOLUNTEERS with their rations, bounty and clothing, amounts to quite as much as any ordinary working man can now earn, if he has constant employment Besides the bounty of twenty two dollars to each volunteer in Maine, paid by the State, Congress has raised the monthly pay to $13—and to each soldier serving for the war $100 in money will be given on his discharge from the army No country was ever so lavishly generous to the patriot soldier as ours And it is right Men who fight for their country should be well cared for by their country

A NEW YORK MAJOR AND HIS WAR HORSE. The name of Major Jourdan, of the Brooklyn Fourteenth Regiment deserves mention among those men who were conspicuous for valor upon the field at Stone Bridge. After the wound of Colonel Wood, now a prisoner at Richmond, had disabled him, the regiment was led by Major Jourdan in three successive charges over the enemy's guns upon an open battery No less celebrated than the Major is the horse he rode throughout the action This animal, seeming to partake of the general enthusiasm, leaped fences and obstructions like an old hunter never for a moment flinching Numerous anecdotes are related of this horse, which seems to share the glory with the men of the Fourteenth One story is worth repeating A cannon shot went whizzing through the air directly in front of the Major, when the trusty steed was actually seen to halt, place his fore feet firmly together and brace up, as if to receive the shock" When it had passed, he bounded forward like a deer as proudly as a king" Of course this was his first action On returning to the camp at Arlington, the servant of the major, on the following morning, as usual, approached the animal and mounted him, to ride to the watering place. He was no sooner seated upon his back than away went the servant flying over the sod, twenty feet or more, when the horse slowly "about faced" and looked upon the miscreet he had done, perfectly quiet, as if to say "You are not the boy who rode me at Stone Bridge." It is said that one but the Major has been able to back him since the fight, but to his master he has taken a singular liking, coming at his call and sleeping near his tent.—N. Y. Post.

THE CAPTURED AMMUNITION AT RICH MOUNTAIN A correspondent of the Cincinnati Times gives the following as the official accounts of the captured property of the rebels at the engagement at Rich Mountain

"1,004 muskets, 15,000 rounds of powder, 7000 rounds of cannister, 4000 rounds of shot, 4 brass 6 pounders, 4 cannons, 84 horses, 54 harnesses, 40 wagons, 20 saddles, 198 tents, 12 stands of colors, 400 pair of pants, 1 blacksmith forge, one buggy and harness, clothing, trunks, and camp equipage of various kinds, a large of hospital stores, drugs, medicines, surgical instruments, and last, though not least, 300 prisoners, together with 700 surrendered by Col. Pegram. From the morning report, it is ascertained there were 1600 in the camp at "the Mountain"; only 600 escaped."

A GENEROUS ACT Two young ladies of this city, have recently returned from Georgia, where they have been engaged in teaching On arriving at Louisville, Kentucky, they found themselves without money or means to pay their bills, except a Georgia draft on New York for $150 which could not be cashed in Louisville, because as a precaution against its loss, it had been made payable to a person in New York Under these circumstances the landlord of the Gault House Mr Silas F Miller) very generously advanced the young ladies $50 without security, upon their mere promise to deposite the amount to his credit in New York He also attended so kindly to all their wants, and manifested the utmost kindness to them.

The young ladies left Macon, Georgia, two days after the battle of Manassas, the news of which had just reached that point The representation there was that 80,000 Federal troops were present against 40,000 Confederates, and that 9000 of the Federalists were killed and 1000 only of the Confederates. At the same time it was admitted that of the Georgia regiments alone two were almost destroyed, as well as one or two of the South Carolina regiments A company from Macon, composed of young men of the first families, belonged to the Seventh Georgia Regiment (the same that was so terribly cut up by the Maine Second), and of 80 privates in that company, it was stated that all but 20 were killed. The bells were tolled, and there was universal mourning

There is great destitution at the South of many of the articles of subsistence and clothing—butter 50 cents per pound—coffee, spices and many articles of groceries hardly to be had at any price—cotton and other cloths selling at two or three times the usual prices. Corn is very scarce and high—but the new crops were good and would soon be ready for harvest. Southern corn, however, it is stated, will not keep for any length of time, as our Northern corn, and a few months will again reduce them to straits for food. They are now encouraged by the leaders with the idea that the blockade will certainly be broken up this fall. Jeff. Davis has promised that it will be removed before Christmas Meanwhile Northern sentiment is misrepresented and perverted by artful extracts from a few Northern papers, and they are thus led to believe that the North will yet yield to the Southern demands.

☞ Capt. Seth Williams, son of Hon. Daniel Williams of Augusta, is Assistant Adjutant General on the staff of Maj. Gen. McClellan.

☞ Over sixty men have been enlisted in the new volunteer company at Kendall's Mills.

☞ S. H. Chapman, of Rockland, sergeant-major of the Fourth Regiment, was killed instantly at Bull Run, by a cannon ball, soon after the regiment came under fire. He was the army correspondent of the Rockland Gazette. He was of the editorial corps to the Aroostook two years ago. He was a young gentleman of fine talents and unblemished character.

We learn that the lady referred to as having her horse shot under her, and as walking all the way to Alexandria, where like a ministering angel of mercy she devoted herself to alleviate the sufferings of the wounded at the hospital, was formerly Miss Hamilton of Bollbroth, now Mrs. Foster, wife of Sergeant Charles P. Foster of Company B, Fifth Regiment. Mrs. Foster is the nurse of the regiment, and her services, skill and kindness are sounded far and near, praises and blessings of the wounded, and the thanks of all the people.—Lewiston Journal.

TEMPERANCE FAMILY MEETING. Mr Editor: On Friday, August 2, 1861, the day following the anniversary of the Theological Seminary at Bangor, twenty five persons left that city in an omnibus drawn by six horses, for Orland They and others, descendants of the late David Thurston, Esq., of Sedgwick, assembled at the house of Deacon John Beak. On their way that company had much animated, cheerful conversation, some of it sober, some very witty, interspersed with occasional singing. The venerable mother, Mrs. Chloe B. Thurston, nearly three months on the ninety-fifth year of her age, though somewhat fall in body, yet retaining her mental powers to a very unusual degree, received five sons and their wives, (with one exception), four daughters and their husbands, children and great grandchildren, together with those related by marriage, to the number of fourscore The cordial greeting of so numerous a company, somewhat widely dispersed, is a scene not often witnessed. A happier assemblage is not easily imagined.

Before separating, thanks were offered to God in prayer for His great goodness in bringing together so many under such favorable circumstances, especially for the unusual preservation of life for in the whole family circle of one hundred and thirty, it is not known that one has died, (and that an infant) since the last assembling a year ago. Praise was also rendered for domestic peace, social comforts, and christian privileges Sin was confessed, and pardon implored through the atoning sacrifice of the Lord Jesus, and supplication for the continued favor of God through life and forever

At the close of the day, several patriotic pieces were sung, and speeches made full of patriotism and christianity Most hearty thanks were rendered to our hosts for the exceedingly liberal hospitality with which they had entertained their numerous guests The Deacon, on the behalf of himself and family, expressed the gratification it had afforded them to admit such a number to their house and their hearts. It was a joyous occasion, in which all seemed highly to participate. An additional cord has been added to the bond of affectionate union.

Such family gatherings are exceedingly delightful and profitable they bring those together who seldom meet, they develop and expand the social affections they connect the different and remote branches of the family they awaken a more lively interest in each other's welfare their tendency is so salutary that they should become general.

☞ The Machias Union publishes and endorses the late speech of J C Breckinridge in the Senate This being true, shall we be accused of disaffection in the future, if we assert that a portion of the Democratic party in this State is in sympathy with the secessionists The most violent rebel papers copy and approve of the speech which is copied and approved of by the Union

☞ The town of Milo, in Piscataquis county which has only 200 legal voters, raised a full company of volunteers 50 of whom belong in that town.

A NEW COUNTERFEIT Counterfeit twos on the Union Bank Haverhill, Mass, are in circulation The vignette is an eagle on a shield, with the word Union upon it, on the upper right hand corner figure 2" in a dye below small portrait Washington on the left of the centre Union Bank in a curve above figure in both upper and lower left hand corners, with word two between them There is a light green tint over the face of the bill, and the word "Two" across it

The New York Day Book is often spoken of as a democratic paper It is not so It never supported a democratic platform or candidate It is an ultra proslavery paper How much confidence can be placed in its statements has been learned by its subscribers in Maine who read its article of last week, called 'Democratic Thunder from Maine" It states that the democratic papers in Maine are a unit in opposition to the war, and magnifies two or three caucuses in obscure towns into great mass meetings. It will hear from Maine next week. The people of Maine are in favor of peace, but not of rebellion.—Rockland Democrat.

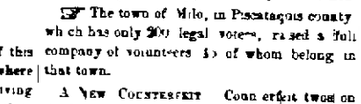
Resolutions

of Eagle Engine Co No. 3, Upon the Death of Edward B. Chamberlain.



At a meeting of Eagle Engine Co., No 3, holden on MONDAY evening, Aug. 5th, the following resolutions were adopted

Whereas, It has pleased an all-wise Providence to remove from us our friend and brother, Edward B. Chamberlain, while in the service of his country, therefore

Resolved, That we cherish the remembrance of the kind acts and faithful zeal of our departed brother in our ranks as a fireman, and honor that generous self-devotion with which he went forth to the battle and sudden death of our country's defenders; and that in mourning his loss, and attempting the solemn duty to be same ready, we may well be stimulated by his example to do and suffer at the call of our country, to which he offered himself

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved wife and child, and parents of our departed brother, our warmest sympathies, and commend them to that only adequate support in the hour of deepest affliction.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing be entered upon our records, and that one be sent to the wife and parents of the deceased, also that the same be published in The Daily Whig and Courier, and Bangor Morning Times.

Baltimore Secessionists Fetling Breckenridge and Vallandigham—The Traitors Attempt to speak—They are Squelched by Union Demonstrations—Official List of the Loss in the late battle—Burning of Hampton by Rebel Scouts—Rebel Force approaching Fort Monroe from Yorktown.

BALTIMORE, 8th.

Messrs Breckenridge and Vallandigham have partaken of a grand dinner at the Eutaw House this evening given by the Baltimore secessionists. At 10 o'clock they were serenaded by the Boylston Band. Mr. Breckenridge is now attempting to speak, but is constantly interrupted by cheers for Crittenden, Gen. Scott, the Kentucky resolutions and for the Union. It is impossible to hear what he is endeavoring to say. There are several thousand persons present, a majority of whom are Union men. They call on the band for the "Star Spangled Banner," "Yankee Doodle" &c., but can get nothing from them but "Dixie," and the "Marseillaise." All attempts to quiet the people were responded to by groans "Remember the 19th of April," "Remember the week of Terror." Several fights took place and some of the secessionists were forcibly handled. He (Breckenridge) was finally compelled to retire without speaking, and the cheers of his friends were defeated amid the groans and hisses. Mr. Vallandigham did not attempt to speak, and the crowd despersed with cheers for the Union and groans for Jeff. Davis, interrupted by counter cheers and hisses.

BALTIMORE, 9th.

Mr Breckenridge continued his attempts to speak about half an hour and was compelled to desist. Among other broken sentences he said "I rise to speak for the poor and weak and against the rich and powerful. (Voice—You lie you traitor, you.) He referred to the people of Maryland, whose citizens had been outraged in their dearest constitutional rights and liberties, to the charges against those who have been cruelly torn from their homes, and but contemptuous answers returned. (Cheers, and this liberty? (Cries of "Enough! Enough! will hisses and cries of "Dry up traitor, &c.) Mr. Breckenridge inquired why they were present if they did not wish to hear him. Cheering followed by hisses.

A violent commotion was now observed among the crowd which swayed from pavement to pavement, as if under strong excitement, and clubs of every size were piled with vigor on the heads of those who seemed to be resisting. Mr. Breckenridge speaking amid the din, said those who were interrupting him were poor men who were tightening the degrading letters on their chains. (Cheering, followed by another renewed violent disturbance.) Mr. Breckenridge said—"you poor fellows may hiss but your children will bless me." (A voice "you're South Carolina and be d——d to you.) He met with vehement cheers. A rush by the police to the right towards the side from which the cheers proceeded. Another scene of confusion ensued, during which several men were beaten severely and pursued bleeding from the street.

Mr Breckenridge—If you do not intend to let me speak, then disperse the crowd. I am a volunteer to address you. (Cheers and groans.) If I did not know that the equal of the listening the assemblage were not the exponents of the people in Baltimore, I should leave it at your city. (Cheers for Jeff Davis and hisses.) He proceeded amid frequent interruptions to say that since the time when the union had been designed as a limit to power, nothing so outrageous as the conduct of the administration had ever occurred.

He recited before the Constitution was adopted and whenever the issue was presented [illegible] on the one hand and a mere form on the other, the form would [illegible] principles remain. (Hisses and cheers.) He was personally responsible for the treatment he had received. I grieve to think [illegible] on my account. (Cries [illegible] cheers for Jeff Davis and the Southern confederacy.)

[illegible] now sprung up, occupying the attention of the crowd for several minutes and [illegible] a general stampede of the timid. Mr. Breckenridge—"it is evident that the secession party are in numbers, as they fear to hear words of truth." This was met with [illegible] directed against the speaker—"we never mind them—they are [illegible] jail and alms house, it's only a [illegible] police.) This was replied to by, "[illegible] us on the 19th of April—now we have [illegible]

Mr Breckenridge concluded his remarks amid [illegible] clamor of cheers for himself Jeff. [illegible] of counter hisses.

Gen Vallandigham was called for but he had disappeared. About twenty persons were carried to the station house, charged with acts of treason in endeavoring to disturb the meeting.

NEW YORK, 9th.

A correspondent of the Herald, writing on board the frigate Wabash, dated off Charleston says that some days since her Britannic Majesty's gunboat Racer came alongside, and her captain boarded up, conferred with Capt. Hiram, and in about half an hour returned to Sumpter and went away, apparently standing off from the coast. Shortly after we lost sight of her, our ship, then the only one on the coast, stood under way and stood out to sea, and remained for over fifty hours, long enough for the vessel in Charleston to make their preparations to attempt to make an easy entrance, if there were in either case.

The Tribune's despatch says that Gen. Rosencrans has resigned to the Postmaster General his commission, and been expelled from the Kanawha, asking for the resumption of the [illegible] to which the department has approved in response.

Rumors have been seen not far from the Potomac. [illegible] on the upper Potomac.

A rebel Baltimore secessionist stated that [illegible] would be there in four weeks; that [illegible] would rise and drive out the Federal [illegible] that no Union man could live in Baltimore. On being assured that the city [illegible] in ashes in such an event, he accepted perfect willingness to sacrifice his property, rather than endure what he called tyranny.

[illegible] has been dispatched to shell the woods at Mathews Point.

The Herald's despatch says the official list gives total of officers and men killed 462; officers and 947 men wounded; 40 officers and 1100 men missing, at the Bull Run battle. The artillery loss was 6 rifled pieces of Company A, 2d artillery; 6 Parott ten pounders of Company I, 1st artillery; 2 rifled cannon, and 2 smooth bore of Company E, 2d artillery; 1 cannon of Company G, 1st artillery; 5 pieces of Rhode Island battery; also, 150 boxes of cartridges, 87 boxes of rifled cannon ammunition, [illegible] boxes of old firearms; 13 loaded [illegible] 3000 bushels of oats; 2500 musket knapsacks and blankets.

It is reported that the rebels are concentrating a large force at Fairfax, and throwing up [illegible] and fortifications along the whole line on the highest points.

A letter to the Charleston Mercury from Richmond, dated 25th, says—"The grand battle is now come off. If Beauregard is not assailed he will march to Alexandria."

Fortress Monroe, 8th.

Hampton has been burnt by scouts. Fugitives yesterday morning brought intelligence of the approach of a large rebel force from Yorktown. These rumors were confirmed at five o'clock in the afternoon by an intelligent deserter from the rebels named Mahew, a native of Maine but a resident of Georgia until impressed into service.

Mahew has been stationed at Yorktown since the first of June. On Friday last, Col. Magruder left Yorktown with 7000 men, including 200 cavalry, eight pieces of artillery, viz: 4 Parrott guns, 4 howitzers and 1 rifled cannon. On Monday night they encamped at Great Bethel, which had been completely deserted. On Tuesday night they advanced towards Hampton, and at noon yesterday took up a position on the back of the river, some three miles from town, where Mahew managed to escape through a corn field, and swimming a couple of streams, reached the Fortress. He says the object of the expedition was to draw out our forces, to attack Camp Hamilton or Newport News, if practicable, and to destroy Hampton, so as to prevent our using it for winter quarters.

Gen. Butler at once repaired to this end of Hampton Bridge, where he remained until 11 o'clock.

Col. Webber erected a barricade near the Hampton end of the bridge and placed a strong guard at various points this side of the creek.

A few minutes past midnight Col. Magruder with 500 rebels, some belonging to Hampton, entered the town, and immediately fired the buildings. The greater part of the 600 buildings were of wood and being very dry, the strong south wind soon produced a terrible conflagration.

There were perhaps twenty white people, and forty negroes in the town from inability to move, some of whom were in their houses when they were fired, and the rebels did not awake them. They gave Cary Jones and wife both of whom were aged and infirm, fifteen minutes to remove a few articles of furniture to their garden. Several of the whites and negroes were hurried away, to be impressed into the rebel service. Mr Scofield, a merchant, took refuge in a swamp above the town. Two negroes were drowned while attempting to cross the creek.

A company of rebel cavalry attempted to force the passage of the bridge, but were repulsed with the loss of three killed and six wounded.

The fire raged all night. The greater part of the rebels withdrew about morning, and at noon today, but about seven or eight houses were standing. The destruction of the town was an act of wanton cruelty to resident Unionists, and moreover, entirely useless, as Gen. Butler intends to winter his army many miles beyond Hampton. An attempt will be made to foist the act on Gen. Butler, but after 10 o'clock Wednesday night, there was not a Federal soldier in Hampton.

A flag of truce has just arrived from Norfolk with Miss Mayo, niece of Gen. Scott, on her way from Richmond to New York. She states that the rebels attribute the act to Gen. Butler. Magruder has encamped near New Market Bridge, but he will hardly venture to attack Newport News.

The Sharpest of Sharp-Shooters.

The Evening Post of yesterday gives a full account of the corps of sharp-shooters at Weehawken, and announced that a target practice would take place in the afternoon.

The firing commenced at four o'clock in the presence of a large number of spectators. Previous to that hour Col. Berdan appeared and commenced swedging the balls in a mould, thus giving them a regular form and exact size, so as to fit the bore of the piece and receive the necessary impress from the spiral twist of the rifle.

The "man target," christened Jeff. Davis, was set up at a distance of a little more than two hundred yards. Colonel Berdan inaugurated the firing. Balancing his rifle for a moment he fired at the head of the figure. When the smoke cleared away, the hole made by the bullet was observed by the aid of a telescope—the cheek, near the nose.

Again the Colonel loaded and quickly fired at the head, hitting it just over the frontispiece of the cap which was painted upon it.

The third shot was fired. "Put his eye out," remarked the Colonel. The ball had struck near enough to that organ to destroy its use had it been a real one.

The fourth shot hit the face.

"I'll try nature's rest," said the Colonel, and he proceeded to a knoll near by, and throwing himself at its side, accommodated his person to its shape and took aim, but the percussion cap only exploded. "Davis is safe this time," he remarked. "We'll try him again." Another cap was provided, and the image was struck just below the front piece of the cap. The aim was quite as accurate as that he had previously obtained.

The sixth shot hit about two inches lower than the fifth.

The seventh hit the top of the head.

Loading again, the Colonel made ready to fire. "Where will you have this shot?" he inquired of one standing by. "In the end of the nose," was the answer. "Between the eyes," suggested another. At this moment the rifle was discharged. "You spoke too late," quietly remarked the Colonel, "he has another nostril." A gentleman was called to witness the effect of the shot, and afterwards our reporter. It was as the Colonel had said. The nose had an additional aperture.

"Where shall I put the next shot?" the Colonel inquired of the gentleman at whose request he had spoiled the nose of the image. "Try his right eye," was the answer. No sooner said than it was done. The ball entered the lower part of the eye. The effect of this shot was carefully noted by several persons through the glass.

"Will you tell me where to hit him again?" once more asked the Colonel of the person who had called the last two shots. That individual declined. He was satisfied that the Colonel could hit anything, and it was not worth while to fire at the image, whose face was riddled. "We will hit him once more, and now in the centre of the forehead." This shot, the tenth, was the finest of the whole. It took effect midway between the front piece of the cap and the root of the nose, and directly over that organ. The distances were almost mathematically accurate.

Forty-eight shots were fired at the target by the members of his company, all but four of which would be classed "mortal".

What General Fremont has Already Accomplished in the West.

The St. Louis Democrat of the 6th inst., thus sums up the acts of General Fremont since he assumed the command of the department of the West:

The energy and skill displayed by General Fremont since his arrival at his headquarters in this city, are wonderful, and afford a fresh and striking illustration of those remarkable traits of character and mind which have already made him a prominent personage in the eyes of the civilized world.

He reached here on the morning of the 25th of July, at about nine o'clock. At noon of the same day, he called a meeting of his staff, and although recommended to take a little rest after his continuous day and night travel from the east, remarked that his business was important, and he must go to work. Since that time, he has labored unremittingly in the organization of the department, and laying the foundation of those important plans which have been confided to him by the government for the movement of a grand army down the Mississippi River during the coming fall.

He rises in the morning at five o'clock, and rarely quits his labors before twelve o'clock at night. In all his orders he is explicit and comprehensive, and in his appointments punctual to the minute.

One instance has come to our knowledge, where, having some business with a civilian, he told him to call at ten minutes beore 4 o'clock, and his papers should be ready for him. The gentleman was promptly on time, and the papers were as promptly placed in his hands. In one week after his arrival, though oppressed with a variety of other important business, he had chartered a fleet of eight steamboats, loaded them with soldiers called from different portions of the State, supplied them with artillery and various kinds of military stores, which he had ordered from the East, and led them in person to the relief of the troops at Bird's Point, which place was seriously menaced by the rebel army under General Pillow.

His return was as prompt as his departure, and from the stir at his headquarters yesterday it would seem that he has entered upon another week with unwonted activity and vigor. From advertisements in the newspapers and other sources, we gather that an extensive camp of instruction is at once to be established on the outskirts of our city, the camp to hold twenty or thirty thousand soldiers.

Near Springfield, Illinois, another camp of equal dimensions is already established and rapidly filling up. The hospital and commissary departments in this city are also under process of enlargement. All these formidable preparations of course look to but one grand object, and that the complete possession of the valley of the Mississippi river by the government of the United States.

The London News of July 19, has two editorial articles based on the message of President Lincoln, from which we extract the following:

The American civil war, then, is a question of extending the area of human slavery, of reviving the slave trade; but it is more than all this for the New World and for the Old; it is a question, indeed, of the peace, safety and prosperity, nay of national existence to that American Union which the genius and goodness of Washington created for an example. But of all free people it is a question of upholding the eternal principles of liberty, morality and justice. War for such a cause, though it be civil war, may perhaps without impiety be called

God's most perfect instrument
In working out a pure intent.

RATTLESNAKE KILLED BY A WOMAN. While picking berries in Tiverton, R. I., on Tuesday, Mrs. Richard Sisson fell in with a rattlesnake, with head erect, preparing to spring upon her. She instantly got out of range, picked up a handful of stones, and opened fire upon the audacious enemy, and stayed not her hand until it had ceased to breathe. His snakeship was four and a half feet long, and sported fifteen rattles, supposed to represent eighteen years of earthly existence. Outside of Rhode Island, some commission in the new army, not yet resigned, will seem vacant, and it will not be a bad move on the part of the war department to confer an important one on Mrs. Sisson.—Pawtucket Chronicle.

CONDITION OF JACKSON'S ARMY IN MISSOURI. The St. Louis Democrat says:

We had a visit yesterday morning from a soldier lately attached to Jackson's grand army of emigration, which he left some days ago. This gentleman is a native of Missouri, is a farmer in times of peace, but was impressed into the "secesh" service by order of the former Governor of the State. He was with them at Lexington, and accompanied them in their begira to the Southeast. It was, he says, a most rapid exodus—and many a pig and chicken, ox and horse, owes his safety to their want of time to steal him.

Our informant was not present at the battle of Carthage—in consequence of his friends having no confidence in his loyalty. He distinctly heard the firing, and assisted in the running afterwards, until they were safe in the extreme southeast corner of Macdonald county, when he left Jackson and his cohorts. He says they have a large force, scattered through the different camps in that neighborhood; has heard it estimated at eighteen thousand men. The rebels are poorly armed, and badly equipped generally. Their food consists altogether in what they can steal.

There is no order or discipline in the rebel army. General Rains is generally drunk, and Jackson is in constant fear of being taken. The Cherokee Indians are frequent visitors to the camp, but will not take any part against the government of the United States. Many are anxiously awaiting the arrival of Uncle Sam's boys to take leave of the rebels, having been impressed into the service. Most of them declare they will not go out of Missouri to serve the Southern Confederacy.

The Union Triumph in Kentucky.—Utter Defeat of the Secessionists.

The Louisville papers of Tuesday bring accounts of the Union triumph at the recent election in Kentucky. In the city of Louisville the Union candidate for the legislature was elected by a unanimous vote. The Journal comments upon the general result in the following jubilant style:

"Never did a party make greater and more determined efforts to carry an election than the secessionists of Louisville made to carry this.—They resorted to all possible expedients for inflaming and exasperating the public mind. They endeavored to incite our people even to the pitch of forcible resistance to the laws. They invented all sorts of false issues and pressed them with their whole power and ingenuity. Their candidates thought to disguise their real position and presented false issues in the hope of deceiving at least a portion of the community. They resorted to appeals, to threats, to promises, to protestations. Their organ put forth all its powers of persuasion, appealing alike to all the test and all the worst passions of human nature. All of them seemed to realize that their last hope was staked upon the conflict. And now look at the vote. Never, never was a party more utterly annihilated.

Of course our returns for the rest of Kentucky are very limited, but we have no doubt that the friends of the Union, the opponents of secession, have achieved an overwhelming victory throughout the state."

ARMY APPOINTMENTS AND PROMOTIONS. In the list of army appointments and promotions, confirmed, are the following from Maine—

Paymasters— Wm. Fessenden of Portland; Frederick Robie of Gorham; Jabez True, of Bangor.

11th Regiment of Infantry—Henry G. Thomas of Portland, to be Crptain; 2d Lieutenant Henry C. Wood, of Winthrop, to be 1st Lieutenant.

12th Regiment—Wm. M. Quimby of Portland to be Captain.

14th Regiment—George D. Norton to be Captain.

15th Regiment—Horace Jewett of South Berwick, to be first Lieutenant.

16th Regiment—Charles A. Lewis and Melville A. Cobran of Litchfield, to be Captains; Lyman S. Strickland to be first Lieutenant.

17th Regiment—Seth L. Carpenter to be first Lieutenant.

18th Regiment—Francis Fessenden of Portland, to be Captain.

All the appointments date from the 14th of May, 1861.

A clergyman relates the following incident in the Pacific Methodist:

"A few years ago, as I was preaching at——, Willie, a little boy some two or three years of age, set on a front seat listening, as I thought, very attentively. He seemed wholly absorbed, and I began to flatter myself that the 'lambs' were being fed as well as the 'sheep.' But just as I finished my sermon, and was in the act of sitting down, he called out, at the top of his voice, 'Mr. Simmons, have you seen my new stockings?' The mystery was solved. He had borne in silence the sermon that he might tell me of his little treasure."

The Companies designated to fill up the Seventh Regiment have been ordered to rendezvous at Augusta immediately, and it is expected that they will all be there by the early part of the week.

☞ The army worm is reported at Dennysville, Washington county, as having destroyed several fields of grain. The worm is also reported in Somerset county, at Carratunk.

A man who has voted the democratic ticket ever since he had a right to vote, said to us the other day, "I am for sustaining the government, and I cordially approve of the proceedings of the present administration to that end. If Mr. Lincoln was to-day a nominee for the Presidency, I would vote for him, and if Israel Washburn is nominated for Governor of Maine, he will get my vote."—Eastport Sentinel.

LOOK OUT FOR HER. We have reason for believing that the Southern vessel which has for some weeks past been in the harbor of St. John, N. B., is destined to make the attempt to run the blockade. The owner of the vessel, and a sea captain familiar with the Southern coast, both citizens of Charleston, S. C., went to St. John, a short time since, and their movements, although conducted with great caution, are known. The steamer New Brunswick on Tuesday carried from Boston to St. John eleven hundred dollars worth of tin plate, twelve hundred dollars worth of block tin, and nine hundred and fifty dollars worth of quicksilver. This is an unusual importation to St. John, both as regards the kind of articles and the quantity, and is no doubt destined as part of a cargo for the vessel we have referred to. We hope this vessel will be closely watched, and her first attempt to run the blockade will result in her capture. It is very well known she has a considerable quantity of munitions of war on board.—Eastport Sentinel.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

A PROTOXIDE OF IRON IN A PERFECTLY
SOLUTION OF PROTOXIDE OF IRON COMBINED.

This well known Remedy has been used extensively and with great success for

DYSPEPSIA,

Or Impaired and Imperfect Digestion;

AND FOR THE CONSEQUENT

DETERIORATION OF THE BLOOD;

AND FOR THE FOLLOWING

FORMS OF DISEASE,

Most of which originate in DYSPEPSIA:

LIVER COMPLAINT, DROPSY, NEURALGIA and NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, LOSS OF APPETITE, HEADACHE, LANGUOR and DEPRESSION of SPIRITS, CARBUNCLES and BOILS, PILES, SCURVY, AFFECTIONS OF THE SKIN, CONSUMPTIVE TENDENCIES, BRONCHITIS, DISEASES PECULIAR TO FEMALES, & ALL COMPLAINTS ACCOMPANIED BY GENERAL DEBILITY, AND REQUIRING

A TONIC AND ALTERATIVE MEDICINE.

Note.—The failure of IRON as a remedy for Dyspepsia, a bad state of the blood, and the numerous diseases caused thereby, has arisen from the want of such a preparation of Iron as shall enter the stomach as a PROTOXIDE state, and assimilate at once with the blood. This want the PERUVIAN SYRUP supplies, and it does so in the only form in which it is possible for Iron to enter the circulation. For this reason the PERUVIAN SYRUP often radically CURES diseases in which other preparations of Iron and other medicines have been found to be of no avail.

Certificate of A. A. HAYES, M. D., of Boston.

It is well known that the medicinal effects of Protoxide of Iron are lost by even a very brief exposure to air and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron which at further oxidation has been deemed impossible.

I find the PERUVIAN SYRUP to this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN, and that solution may replace all the proto-carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica.

A. A. HAYES, Assayer to the State of Mass.

Certificate of Jas. R. Chilton, M. D., of N. York.

It is well known that it has been found very difficult to preserve in a PALATABLE form for a desirable length of time, compounds of the Protoxide of Iron. I have, however, succeeded, and am pleased to say, accomplished the desideratum.

ATWOOD'S

Quinine Tonic

BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

Recommended by the Faculty

For its Superior Medicinal Qualities!

THIS elegant Compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening, and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases, and in fever and ague or kindred complaints its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best physicians in Boston has said "that it is the very best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half pints as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circular.

Please read a few certificates from the following reliable and well known people.

MESSRS. HENRY P. WILSON & CO.—My wife is now using your Hair Regenerator for the hair and pronounces it far superior to anything she ever used for the hair. It is entirely free from sediment, does not soil in the least—has no disagreeable odor, removes the growth of hair prevents it falling, and often cures the headache. I do hereby recommend the article, because I think an article of this kind should be what your Hair Regenerator will should be which it is. I think it is the best article for the hair now in use. Respectfully, &c.,

Rev. JACOB STEARNS, Newburyport, Ms.

I like the Hair Regenerator and Dressing very much. Rev. Geo. W. Wooding, Hartford, Ct.

I hesitatingly pronounce it an invaluable article from the effect on my own head.

S. S. Hill, wife of Rev. Henry Hill, Manchester, N. H.

It renders my hair soft and glossy.

Mrs. Hannah Sarah Springs, N. Y.

I feel confident that it operates not as a dye, but to restore the roots to their natural healthy state.

Rev. E. M. Kedo, Nashua, N. H.

I can cheerfully recommend it to all persons.

Rev. C. Russell, Lisbon, N. H.

Messrs. Henry P. Wilson & Co.—I have no hesitancy in saying that Mrs. Wilson's Hair Regenerator and Hair Dressing are the best hair preparations now in use. I shall continue to use them whenever I can procure them, and will take pleasure in recommending them to my friends. Yours, &c.

Rev. H. H. HARTWELL, Lawrence, Mass.

PROF. WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE

AND

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for it is pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilirating and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system inexhaustible to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilirating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those combined having powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science and also by all who have suffered by debility, for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many. The most dangerous diseases to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example as the following: Consumption, bronchitis, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, faintness, nervous irritability, neuralgia, palpitation of the heart, melancholy, hypocondria, night sweats, languor, giddiness, and all that class of cases so few fully fatal if unattended to in time, called female weaknesses and irregularities. Also liver derangements or torpidity and liver complaints, diseases of the kidneys, scalding, or incontinence of the urine, or any general derangement of the urinary organs, pain in the back side and between the shoulders, procreation, cold hands, hacking and continued cough, emaciation, difficulty of breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say it will not only cure the debility following chills and fever but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic influences, and cure the disease at once if already attacked. And as it acts directly and perfectly upon the biliary system arousing the liver to action, promoting a healthy secretion, and secreting the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water, hence all traveling should have a bottle with them, and all should take a table spoonful at least, before eating. As it strengthens the digestive organs, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits—students, ministers, literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it, for they will find an agreeable pleasant and efficient remedy against those ills which robs them of their beauty, for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist without the above irregularities. Then again in the cordial, a perfect mother's relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it, this cordial is all we claim for it. Matters try it. And to you we appeal to decide the illness or decline not only of your daughters before it be too late, but also your sons, and husbands. For while thousands have suffered from false delicacy, others have gone to a premature grave, rather than let the secret be known, and to the latter we recommend it, mixed up with the excitement of fame, that if it were in their power they would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But there is always hope, and by using confidently a proper remedy we are enabled to offer to all such will unhesitatingly point to Prof. Wood's Restorative, Blood Renovator and Hair Restorative, a remedy which will do the work, always, in time of need. GARDINER'S

Rheumatic and Neuralgia

COMPOUND!

A certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Gardiner's Rheumatic & Neuralgia Compound" is the best medicine for the disease I ever saw.

CHAS. A. BATES, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

After suffering with Rheumatism twenty years, and being confined to my bed seven weeks last spring, I was entirely cured by the use of one bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic & Neuralgia Compound."

NORMAN T. ARNES, 8 Franklin-st., Boston.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle and am entirely well.—D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and have tried more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MONROE, Pearl-street House, Boston, Mass.

"Gardiner's Rheumatic & Neuralgia Compound" has entirely cured me of Neuralgia.—W. C. THOMPSON, Proprietor Pearl-st. House, Boston, Mass.

One bottle of this Compound cured me of severe attacks of Neuralgia.—FANNIE S. THOMPSON, Pearl-st. House, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Gilliden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound" in the spring, while I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that I proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

The undersigned hereby certify that they have used "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound" for the cure of Rheumatism and Neuralgia, and found in every case immediate and permanent relief. We have full confidence in its healing qualities, and would recommend it to all who are afflicted with these diseases, as being the safest and best medicine we offer to the public.

AYER'S

Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints:

Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co.—Genlm.—I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms, sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but found no relief from any thing. In fact the disease grew worse. At length I was recommended to try your Sarsaparilla, and I have from your regular agent a supply, which cured me. The cure thus wrought is as well as any one can wish it to be, and I feel no taint of scrofula in my blood. I have taken but a teaspoonful at a time, three times a day, for a year, and I feel that I owe my life to your Sarsaparilla. Now, I think, while fully sensible of the danger I escaped, I can safely say I feel in the best of health. I have no humor in my blood, and I feel that I owe this to your Sarsaparilla. I am anxious to make this known, that others may be benefited, and you may use this as you please. I am, very gratefully,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire Rose or Erysipelas Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Peebles writes from Sandy Lake, Sept., 1859: "I have cured an old case of Dropsy which had resisted all other means, and finally had terminated fatally by persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have also cured many of Erysipelas and Scald Head, and I think it is the greatest alterative we have, and the best blood purifier we know of. I shall use it in my practice while I practice medicine, and I shall recommend it everywhere I go, and I can do no less than thus publicly to express my gratitude for the good it has done me and my patients."
